FOUGHT A BURGLAR. SAID HER BABY WAS DYING.

Ryan Drew a Pistol and Two Razors on Policeman Dillon. The Latter Overpowered and Subdued Him with His Club.

Police Confident that He's the "Barber Shop Burglar."

After a short but desperate encounter, in which a burglar attempted to use a pistol and a brace of razors, John Ryan, a shoemaker, who says he lives at 120 West 12th street, New York, was captured by Policeman J. J. Gillon, of the lower Fulton street station, Brooklyn, at 12:30 o'clock this morning and locked up in the cell.

Police officers believe they have made a most important capture. For several weeks complaints have been pouring in at Police Headquarters from the proprietors of barber shops whose places had been broken into and robbed. The boldness of the burglar was illustrated last week, when a single night two barber shops—one adjoining and another immediately back of the Adams street station—were broken into.

Ryan was at work trying to enter another place last night, when he was surprised and captured by Policeman Gillon. He had been successful in a burglary earlier in the evening.

Shortly before 11 o'clock last night Salvatore Massimo, a boy, employed by Joseph Muccio, a barber at 91 Fulton street, and who slept over the stock, was awakened by the noise of something moving about in the store. He crept downstairs, and just as he was about to peer into the store through an open door a man thrust a pistol under his nose and said:

"Shut up, you! If you give an alarm I'll kill you!"

The boy was frightened that he let out a piercing shriek. The burglar, Muccio, who had been awakened by the noise, rushed into the store, and sent him reeling into the gutter. When he returned to the store, he discovered that the burglar had stolen 75 cents from the till.

For several nights Policeman Gillon has been specially detailed to watch barber shops in the Second Precinct. He turned out this morning and saw a man trying to open the door of Philip Henry's barber shop, at 87 Broadway street. He asked the man what he was doing there at that time of the morning.

"Oh, nothing," said the man. The policeman recognized him as the burglar who had broken into the store. He put out his hand to arrest him, but Ryan was too quick. He dodged, and when he turned to run, he was seized by the policeman. It was Gillon's turn to get out of the way, but as he dodged, he drew his club and sent the burglar reeling into the gutter. Then Ryan brought another razor into play and a couple of feet just in time to escape a blow in the face.

Ryan raised the razor above his head and renewed the attack. Gillon struck him on the head with his club, and he fell into the gutter. Before Ryan could renew the fight Gillon brought his club down on Ryan's head and sent him reeling to the ground. Then he slipped handcuffs on his prisoner and took him to the station house, where an ambulance surgeon was called to dress a scalp wound that the prisoner had received.

When asked where he got the razors before the fight, Gillon said the prisoner threw a cigarette-holder away. It was when he was looking for it that he was taken by Ryan. The prisoner also has a small stone in his pocket, which the police say is used in breaking windows.

At a lodging-house at Bowery and Houston street, Brooklyn, this morning Ryan was held on a charge of burglary.

MOTORMAN BERNARD HELD.

His Car Bore Down on Little Clara Ross and Severed Her Foot.

Motorman Edward Bernard, who had charge of trolley car No. 12, of the Fulton street line, was charged with running down Clara Ross, six years old, of 81 Bay street.

While crossing the street, near her home, when the car appeared. She slipped and fell with her foot under the trolley. The car then moved the little girl, cutting off the foot.

Ambulance surgeon, Dr. C. C. Conner, removed the child, which was hanging by a shred of flesh. The child was taken to her home, where she is now lying on a bed. Her condition is critical. Bernard was admitted to $500 bail to await the result of a victim's injuries.

A JOB, SAYS HAVILAND.

The Real Estate Man Protests Against Flatbush Ave. Extension.

Mayor Cohen, of Brooklyn, to-day received a letter from C. Augustus Haviland, a real-estate agent, protesting against the proposed extension of Flatbush avenue. Mr. Haviland denounces the scheme as a job, and says he believes the Mayor has been misled into making it.

He says if the Mayor wants to encourage investors to buy Brooklyn real estate he might have the streets paved with asphalt, cut down the poles and wires, and erect fire alarm boxes, that can be operated without walking several blocks in search of a key.

Brooklyn Brevelles.

22-year-old Emily O'Meara, of 24 Chapel street, Brooklyn, was charged with being a third-story window this morning. She was charged with being a third-story window this morning. She was charged with being a third-story window this morning.

When she was a Child, she clung to Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

John Del Vecchio, the variety artist, who tried to commit suicide with his wife last Friday by taking carbolic acid and cutting his throat, has recovered, and is able to go to court whenever the police are ready to take him. He told the police that he had been in the hospital for two weeks, and that he had been in the hospital for two weeks.

What a tax upon fathers of families is the keeping of boys well clothed! We are endeavoring to reduce this tax to a minimum by supplying children's suits, shoes and all fixings at prices far below those ordinarily charged. How do we do it? Well, we could not do it if our sales were not as large as they are.

This applies to the men's department, too. Were you ever in our store? An immense line of Boys' Suits at $5.00.

Our fall book of fashions is ready. Write for it.

Clothing bought at our kept pressed and delivered free of charge.

READING WAS A WEAK STOCK.

It Did Not Share in the Early Rise in Prices.

When Whiskey Declined the General List Yielded.

The stock market, which apparently closed so weak yesterday in consequence of the strong bear raid on the Grangers, opened steady and gradually developed increased strength.

This, too, in spite of the fact that quotations came lower from London, and that the St. Paul statement for the third week of August showed a material falling off in earnings. The bulls gave their specialties effective support and this caused more or less covering of short contracts, under which prices advanced.

American Sugar rose 1-8 to 96 1/4; Burlington and Quincy, 4, to 74; Rock Island, 3 1/2, to 61 3/4; General Electric, 4 1/2, to 40 1/2; New England, 1 1/2, to 33 1/4; Tennessee Coal & Iron, 12, to 12 1/2; Union, 3 1/2, to 31 1/2; Chicago Gas, 3 1/2, to 70 1/2; St. Paul, 3 1/2, to 33 1/4; Louisville & Nashville, 4 1/2, to 65 1/2; New York Central, 2 1/2, to 100 1/2.

Reading was a notable exception, dropping nearly 2 points, to 18 7/8. American Sugar rose 1-8 to 96 1/4; Burlington and Quincy, 4, to 74; Rock Island, 3 1/2, to 61 3/4; General Electric, 4 1/2, to 40 1/2; New England, 1 1/2, to 33 1/4; Tennessee Coal & Iron, 12, to 12 1/2; Union, 3 1/2, to 31 1/2; Chicago Gas, 3 1/2, to 70 1/2; St. Paul, 3 1/2, to 33 1/4; Louisville & Nashville, 4 1/2, to 65 1/2; New York Central, 2 1/2, to 100 1/2.

Reading was a notable exception, dropping nearly 2 points, to 18 7/8. The Evening World's Sporting Extra yesterday, made an unfavorable impression, as the stock and income bondholders are called upon to furnish $100,000 more money for which they will get 5 per cent. The stock market, which apparently closed so weak yesterday in consequence of the strong bear raid on the Grangers, opened steady and gradually developed increased strength.

This, too, in spite of the fact that quotations came lower from London, and that the St. Paul statement for the third week of August showed a material falling off in earnings. The bulls gave their specialties effective support and this caused more or less covering of short contracts, under which prices advanced.
